2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

Claims 1-16 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest the claimed compounds because the description on pages 21-22 provided factual evidence that the particular dideutero or [18F]2-fluoroethoxy compounds are unexpectedly having longer plasma half life or chases from the striatum faster than other homologous compounds.

Claims 1-16 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
